

HELP US HELP OHIO'S CRIME VICTIMS

Victims of violent crime face many challenges as a direct result of their tragic and unexpected circumstances. The Crime Victim Services Section of the Ohio Attorney General's Office serves as a resource for those victims and regularly provides trainings and other educational offerings to the professionals who work with them.

For more than 30 years, a vital part of the section's mission has been the AG's Two Days in May Conference on Victim Assistance. This annual event brings together victim advocates and others to foster collaboration, explore best practices, boost innovative new ideas, and allow these dedicated professionals to refocus and re-energize their efforts to help the most vulnerable among us.

On May 10-11, nearly 1,000 advocates will convene at the Hilton Columbus Downtown for the 35th edition of the conference.

Numbers reflect 2026 TDIM attendance.*

During the 2026 event, professionals from 83 of Ohio's 88 counties and four states attended.

Violence is a community problem — one that takes a community to eradicate. That's where you, as engaged corporate citizens or valuable nonprofit partners, come in. Your generous sponsorship of this storied and well-respected two-day event will ensure that Ohioans who have been violently wronged are supported by professionals who care deeply about them.

ANDY WILSON
OHIO ATTORNEY GENERAL

The advocates who attend Two Days in May work with the families of homicide victims, standing beside them as they seek answers and justice. They walk with victims and survivors of domestic and interpersonal violence to uncover resources and help them find their voice. They listen to survivors of rape and sexual assault and help them reclaim their power and confidence to be able to see a path forward. They work tirelessly to break the cycle of generational violence. They answer the call whenever it comes. They do not say no.

If you and your organization are committed to ending domestic violence, protecting survivors of sexual assault, empowering those who have been hurt and aiding those in need of healing, then the Two Days in May Conference needs your support.

Your generous sponsorship will allow the Attorney General's Office to keep costs of the conference affordable for those victim-assistance programs that routinely operate on shoestring budgets in doing their important work.

Your sponsorship will make a difference in the lives of many.

For more information — including highlight videos, previous agendas and stories of award winners — please visit the Two Days in May conference site at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/TDIM. To get your questions answered, to discuss possibilities and pledge your support for helping these helpers, please reach out to Holly Andrews, deputy director of support and outreach in the AGO's Crime Victim Services Section, at 614-216-4909 or Holly.Andrews@OhioAGO.gov.

ANDY WILSON
OHIO ATTORNEY GENERAL