Charitable Law Workshops

Minding the Business While Changing the World – Legal Obligations of Charity Leaders - Charities strengthen our communities in countless ways, and the volunteers associated with these groups are often passionate about the cause. Sometimes there is less enthusiasm for paying attention to board governance, legal fiduciary obligations, and reporting requirements. But charities ignore these important concepts at their own peril. If groups fail to take care of business properly, the entire organization and its critical programs can be jeopardized. This training will include a review of the basic requirements all charitable boards have and will provide easy-to-follow tips for board members who try to responsibly do their jobs in order to protect the organization and the beneficiaries of the group's efforts. (1-3 hours)

Charitable Fundraising – the Good, the Bad and the Ugly - Charities across the country struggle with challenging fundraising projections and may grapple with the need to consider new approaches to increase revenues. Sometimes short-cuts may sound appealing. Don't be tempted. Your organization's fundraising strategies, if not pursued with care and attention, can risk your group's integrity and even create legal headaches. During this session, learn about the legal requirements surrounding fundraising; get tips for selecting and working with professional solicitors and fundraising counsel; review data on professional solicitation; and hear some of the horror stories of fundraising that jeopardize the public's level of trust in the nonprofit sector. But bingo requires a license and significant recordkeeping procedures in order to ensure that bingo proceeds are protected by the charitable organization. Bingo School trainings are provided throughout the state. Dates and locations are listed online at www.OhioAttorneyGeneral.gov/Business/Bingo and participants must register in advance online. The training covers some of the specific recordkeeping

This seminar will cover some of the signs of a potential scam and sources of information that will enable donors to make wise and informed decisions about their limited charitable donations. (1 hour)

You Are Hereby Deputized - If the public loses faith in the integrity of nonprofits, the entire charitable sector is at risk. As charitable leaders, what responsibilities do we have to protect, not just our own organizations, but the entire sector? Learn about some of the issues public policy makers are raising about charitable organizations, and discuss strategies that can be developed to protect the public and the entire sector. (1 hour)

Anatomy of a Charitable Fraud - Unfortunately, some people are too willing to take advantage of other people’s generosity and embezzle funds from charitable organizations.
