Narrative:

On December 21, 2022, the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Investigation (BCI) was requested to investigate the facts and circumstances surrounding an Officer-Involved Critical Incident (OICI) that occurred at Sidney Foodtown, located at 1010 Wapakoneta Avenue, Sidney, Shelby County, Ohio. The OICI occurred when Sidney police officers encountered Todd I. Jordan (Jordan), who was armed with a gun inside Sidney Foodtown.

On December 21, 2022, at approximately 1157 hours, BCI Special Agent Chris Hamberg (SA Hamberg) interviewed Daniel Wourms (Wourms) in an interview room at the Sidney Police Department. The interview was digitally recorded. The audio file is attached to the case file.

The purpose of the interview was to ascertain what Wourms may have witnessed at the Foodtown grocery store in regard to the OICI incident.

SA Hamberg asked Wourms to explain how the events unfolded prior to the incident at the grocery store. Wourms stated he walked up to front of the store because he heard someone yelling, and when he got up there, everyone was telling him to stay away from the front doors and windows. Wourms stated he then observed a male [Todd Jordan] wearing brown or tan jacket, and possible blue jeans come into the store. Wourms stated that Jordan then yelled Annette Wooddell's name and fired one (1) gunshot inside the store. Wourms added that Jordan was Wooddell's ex-boyfriend, and he was banned from the store last year when Jordan and the former manager [Keith] of Foodtown got into a verbal argument.

Wourms told SA Hamberg that he then proceeded to the back of the store and helped a customer with a cane [Ida Spangler (Spangler)] into the milk cooler, along with another employee and they stayed in there until the police arrived and told them they could come out.

Wourms had no additional information to share in regard to the incident.
