 - i. Any information tending to show that other persons, excluding the accused, were or could have been involved in the crime;
 - j. Jury statements of witnesses which conflict either internally or with another statement of the same witness;
 - k. The names and addresses of any individuals who were considered at any time as possible suspects, and the evidence that led to this conclusion;
 - l. Any statement of any witness or other individual which presents or indicates a doubt as to the identity of the accused, or to any element of the charge;
 - m. Any polygraph tests which raise some doubt as to any State witness's credibility; and;
 - n. Any evidence, information or material of any kind which does or could mitigate the punishment meted out to the Defendant, including but not limited to matters pertaining to the differences between the culpability of co-defendants with respect to the criminal acts with which they have been charged.
6. Rule 16(B)(6): Law Enforcement Reports: All reports from peace officers, the Ohio State Highway Patrol, and federal law enforcement agents, including all reports concerning any stop, detention, arrest, and search Defendant.

9. Rule 16(K): Expert Witnesses and Reports: Written reports of any expert witness summarizing the expert witness's testimony, findings, analysis, conclusions, or opinion, and a summary of the expert's qualifications and curriculum vitae.

Defendant is entitled to full discovery to vindicate his State and Federal constitutional rights to effective assistance of counsel, due process of law, equal protection of the law, confrontation of the State's evidence against him, and freedom from cruel and unusual punishment. United States Constitution Amendments V, VI, VIII, IX and XIV; Ohio Constitution Article I, Section 1,2, 5, 9, 10, 16 and 20.

Additionally, Ohio has established Criminal Rule 16 to effectuate the foregoing constitutional rights. Even if the procedure in all of its details does not emanate directly from specific constitutional provisions, it is nevertheless clear that "when a State opts to act in a field where its action has significant discretionary elements, it must nonetheless act in accord with the dictates of the Constitution and, in particular, in accord with the Due Process Clause." Evitts v. Lucey (1985), 469 U.S. 87, 401. The State of Ohio's procedure for providing a discovery must therefore comply with the constitutional requirements of due process. Accordingly, Defendant demands discovery pursuant to the foregoing constitutional, statutory, and procedural rule provisions.

In addition, this motion for disclosure of all exculpatory evidence is made pursuant to the Due Process Clause of the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Constitution, Brady v. Maryland, Kyles v. Whitle, Strickler v. Greene and Youngblood v. West Virginia.
